High School Board Answers Charges of 'Better Education' Group

To the citizens of the Sequoia High School District: The Committee for Better Education, in outlining its statement of policy on the issues involved in the forthcoming high school trustees' election, writes at length implying that there is a lack of democratic practice at Sequoia. Has a single member of the committee been present at a meeting of the faculty, a meeting of the student body council, or a meeting of the trustees? How can the committee presume to speak of those things which they know not? Citizens who have attended such meetings have been unanimous in their opinion that they have seen democracy at work. The practice of democracy includes the recognition of an obligation to live within the framework of orderly government; to recognize that for every right and privilege, there is a corresponding obligation and duty; to recognize the difference between liberty and petulant self-will; to recognize that democracy is a rule of the people expressed through the opinion of the majority. The committee apparently advocates permitting 13 to 17 year olds to pursue their individual impulses without restraint. For example, they state, "No attempt should be made to stifle the thinking of youngsters." We ask, Not even if the thinking is wrong? Not even if the thinking is irreverent, irreverent of home, family, country, honesty, integrity, loyalty, or of the duties and responsibilities of good citizenship? There is a distinct difference between direction of thought and stifling of thought which the committee apparently does not grasp. Teaching means the direction of students' thinking toward desirable objectives which may be the mastery of specific bodies of information or the appreciation of the contributions of the past in its relationship to the present. The development of skills, attitudes, ideals, and concepts requires direction. Education is a product of nurture as well as nature. No thoughtful parents would agree to the theory of "Hands Off!" in the rearing of their child at home, for lack of control is recognized as a prime cause of juvenile delinquency. If home control and direction of children is desirable, does it not follow that school control and direction of children is also desirable? Again, the committee states, "Any curtailment of their (students) speech, verbal or written, should be only to insure accuracy." We ask, does the committee mean that if the sentence structure is correct, that regardless of content, viewpoint, social or moral consequence, the youngster should be permitted to write or say whatever pops into his mind? The survey of Dr. Almack was the basis upon which the present board instituted changes this past Summer that it proposes as only the beginning of the overhaul that Sequoia has so long needed. The first step was to restore the administrative responsibility of the school to administrators and teaching responsibilities to the teachers. A few disgruntled teachers have resented this action of the board, but the great majority of the teaching staff are much happier to receive their directions from one principal than from a half dozen would be powers behind the throne. No business can be successfully run without competent management, and competent management requires training and experience. Competent management cannot be had with divided responsibility. The committee asks for a fair deal for Sequoia. That is the objective of the present board of trustees, and a first step to this end was taken this Summer. It can only be fully realized when every person connected with the school recognizes and performs the tasks for which he is responsible. These tasks may be simply stated as follows: Students—to learn. Teachers—to teach. Administrators—to administer. Board of trustees—to represent the will of the people and to discharge those duties outlined for them in the Education Code. (Signed) Board of trustees, Sequoia Union High School. W. W. HILTON, MORTON S. BREWER, CLIFTON H. WOODHAMS, CHARLES P. BURGESS, MERRITT R. HOSMER.

Ex-RC Rodeo Queen Gets Hollywood Screen Tryout

SYLVIA MIRAMONTES

Sylvia Miramontes, Redwood City's 1947 Rodeo Queen, is in Hollywood for a screen test as a result of publicity given her during the 1947 celebration. She left last Sunday by airplane, accompanied by her mother, and will return today. It was understood that there was a possibility she might be given a part in the forthcoming "Little Beaver" movie series.

Mrs. Miramontes, the former Sylvia Fischer of Redwood City, won the title of Queen of the Rodeo in a rodeo ticket selling contest which saw her poll a grand total of 414,750 votes.

Her backers were members of the San Mateo Horsemen's Assn. Mrs. Miramontes, a beautiful, brunet, is also an excellent horsewoman. She was awarded her screen test through the backing of the Peninsula Celebrations Assn.

A former student at Sequoia High School, Mrs. Miramontes won honors for being the outstanding cowgirl in the 1946 Fourth of July parade. She belongs to the Mavericks, group of young men and women interested in riding.

Mrs. Miramontes lives on Valota Rd.

RC Youth Hit by Train Here, Dies

Robert Striplin, 14, 18 Manzanita St., was killed by a northbound Southern Pacific Co. locomotive at the Spruce St. crossing at 6:37 a.m. Wednesday. The McKinley School youth was killed when he fell off the back of a motor scooter into the path of a train engineered by Harry E. Russell, 61, San Jose. Peter Hudson, 15, 150 Redwood Ave., the scooter driver, gave Redwood City police this account: Striplin was riding tandem on the back of the scooter as the two youths returned from delivering morning newspapers. Hudson didn't see the train as his westbound scooter started across the tracks.

Hearing a yell from Striplin, the driver turned and saw the train bearing down on the scooter. As he continued across the tracks he saw the eighth grade student bounce off the back of the scooter into the path of the train. Redwood City police said the train carried the youngster 140 feet before his body came to rest between the north and southbound tracks.

Attendants at the Layng and Tinney Funeral Home where the body was taken said that death was instantaneous and was caused by a skull fracture. Services at the funeral home are pending. Burial will be at the Oakdale Cemetery.

The youngster was the son of Mrs. Pearl Teakell and had attended Redwood City elementary schools since the fourth grade. He was the brother of Eugene G. Striplin of Shreveport, La., Mary McIntosh of Sebastopol, and Betty Lou Striplin of Redwood City.

NFO Lions Hear John Reber Talk

Approximately 50 men and women attended the North Fair Oaks Lions Club social meeting and Ladies Night at Ramon Oaks Tuesday evening to hear John Reber, originator of the "Reber Plan" for converting the San Francisco Bay into a freshwater lake. Reber's talk on the subject of the Reber plan explained the way the plan would work. During the speech, Reber distributed literature on his subject to the members and guests. Entertainment was furnished by an instrumental trio consisting of Miss Maureen Cornell, cello; Miss Dorothy Storm, piano; and Robert Chisholm, violinist and director.

Argilla Appointed To Insurance Post

Joseph Argilla, San Mateo, has been appointed assistant manager of the San Francisco Agency of California-Western States Life Insurance Co., according to a recent announcement from the company's home office in Sacramento. Argilla joined the company in 1932 and has been associated with the San Francisco group as an agent since his return from military service in 1946. During the war he served as a colonel of infantry in the Southwest Pacific and the Far East.

Five Injured In Two Local Accidents

Five persons were injured in two Redwood City automobile accidents Tuesday. One of the accidents resulted in Arthur T. Warner Jr., 2371 Middlefield Rd., being arrested by Redwood City police on a charge of drunken driving.

Police said that Warner was the driver of a southbound car which overtook and sideswiped a car driven by Ramond L. Fredrickson, 52, 2308 Cheshire Way. Police said that both drivers were injured slightly. At the time Fredrickson's car was pushing a stalled car driven by Joseph E. McElvane of Berkeley.

The accident happened on Bayshore Hwy. 570 feet north of Whipple Ave. at 9:42 p.m. The other accident involved two cars at Hopkins Ave. and Hudson St. at 9:07 p.m.

Drivers of the cars were Rollen H. Somer, 42, 132 Nevada St., and Helen Rudisill, 57, 921 Fulton St. Injured were the two drivers and Somer's daughter, Lovey, 14. All were treated at Redwood City Clinic. Somer for a cut knee, Helen Rudisill for a cut forehead and concussion, and Miss Somer for a bruised knee and wrist.

Police said that the Rudisill car, moving south on Hudson, sideswiped the westbound Somer car. The Somer car, police continued, turned over three times and the Rudisill car turned over on its side.

RC Dog Loose In Chicago Area

A valuable standard schnauzer female owned by B. B. Berman, 2808 Broadway, was missing Wednesday in Chicago, a city of 4,000,000 people.

According to Berman's wife, Mrs. Patricia Berman, the dog, Zaba of Selby, had been sent to a Chicago airport to be shipped back to Redwood City but broke loose and ran off when airport employees took the dog out of its crate to be exercised.

Berman, who had flown on to New York, was notified that the dog was missing and is flying back to Chicago to join the search. Mrs. Berman said that the airport has offered a reward for the return of Zaba and that Chicago police have been alerted to be on the lookout for the dog.

Berman had taken Zaba back to Chicago and shown her in the Chicago International Dog Show last weekend. While in the city he also conferred with magazine writers about an article on the Redwood City Optimist Club dog training program which is to appear in a national magazine during National Dog Week.

GARDEN: Give Children Ground Plots of Their Own

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

"I would like for you to direct some teaching to parents about giving children garden plots of their own to care for," writes Harry H. McElroy of Lafayette. "My grandmother gave me a little plot in the garden when I was about seven years old, nearly 62 years ago, and I have been making gardens ever since. "My first crop was radishes. In "them days" I was a one crop farmer. It is easy to teach a child to grow things—it teaches him a sense of responsibility and a valuable sense of ownership. It is a valuable part of one's education—and it is easier for a child to learn to grow things in the garden than it is for an adult whose education in that line has long been neglected. "In all those years since my first garden I have never failed to have a plot of ground with something growing, except for short periods when I had the misfortune to live in apartments. "The cultivation of a boy in a garden is the most important crop parents will ever grow in their yard. And it is profitable, too. A boy can always sell his vegetables to his mother or the neighbors if he can grow good vegetables and get good money for them—as if there was any other kind of money. And gardening is profitable all a man's life long. "I still like my garden and when I was doing office work I rested very much to get out in the yard and do physical work after sitting at an office desk all day. It surely is fun after you retire—but I am afraid it is too late then if one has not learned long before that . . . "I can think of no better pitch for teaching the youngsters the facts of plant life than such a letter from one who, if my figuring is correct, now approaches 70. However, I can't quite agree with him on that last sentence. I don't think it's ever too late to learn. From time to time I've mentioned giving the children a go at gardening. I don't know whether it's done any good, but I hope so. Gardening should never be "typed" as an older's activity. How about it, parents? How about throwing a garden party for your kids and their friends? After they've had their exercise, serve popcorn and bubble gum, and they'll look forward to the next session, just like the movies:

What To Plant Now

Flower seeds: Ageratum, lobelia, Pyrethrum, Verbena, Zinnia, Ranunculus, Mexican poppy, Shirley poppy, Aster, annual Chrysanthemum, Phlox drummondii.

Started Plants: Marigolds, Stocks, Zinnias, Asters, Carnations, Delphinium, Columbine, Begonia seedlings, Gloxinia.

Plant more Gladioli now. Vegetables: Spinach, lettuce, corn, peas, onions, radishes, carrots, beets, turnips, leeks. In flats: tomatoes, eggplants, peppers.

You'll note in today's planting suggestions, that ranunculus are mentioned. Here's a note from Ruthmarie Stimpson of Visalia: "Dear Rolly: In re planting ranunculus seed at this time—here is something your readers might like to know about, and try for themselves. Many, many times, at this season of the year, I've bought the very best ranunculus seed. Planted it in prepared flats. "The result? Either very poor germination, or none at all. Mostly none at all. Last year, as the flowers finished, I'd pull off a handful of dried heads. And in making my garden rounds, stopping here and there to examine various beds of annuals and perennials, I'd simply be crumpling the flower head in among them.

"Never in the least expecting anything to happen as a result to my VERY great astonishment, there they are coming up by the millions this spring, it seems. In the iris, the rose border, the delphiniums, the daffodils, the Hems, and among the African daisies. Such lively, viable seeds you never heard of!" Our Thanks.

That's one way. And by the way, did you know that if you let ranunculus seed age for a few seasons, the singles lose their viability and you get a much higher percentage of doubles?

SM County Supervisors Urge South Bay Crossing

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors today was on record officially as favoring a southern Bay crossing which would cross from Army St. in San Francisco to Alameda.

Citing traffic problems in San Mateo County, the supervisors passed the following resolution at a special meeting yesterday afternoon:

"The County of San Mateo has a population of approximately 250,000, and is currently experiencing a phenomenal growth in population.

"Therefore, the board of supervisors of the county unanimously approves and urges the construction of a bridge from Army St. in San Francisco across to the City of Alameda, as such a bridge would well serve the needs of the area, would tend to reduce traffic congestion in an already tremendously congested area and would be advantageous from the standpoint of national defense.

Opposition to proposals for a parallel Bay Bridge came today also from Cappy Ricks, director of the Contra Costa County Development Assn. and a representative of the Martinez Real Estate Board.

Ricks, in a letter to Sen. Dennis Chavez, wrote in protest to the granting by the Navy of a permit to anchor a parallel bridge on Goat Island.

"I do not think they have explored the possibilities of using the present bridge to handle more traffic for many years to come," Ricks stated. "They seem to be rushing the starting of a second bridge in order to finance it with tolls before the present bridge becomes toll free."

Ricks said that from a defense standpoint a parallel bridge is "indefensible." He advocated the Reber dirt dam, which "would protect the rail, auto, pedestrian, water and utilities supply of San Francisco, in case of attack."

Building of a second bridge, Ricks declared, could only be done by the issuing of bonds which were guaranteed repayment by prohibiting any competitive free crossing for at least 20 years.

"This would preclude forever the building of dams across San Francisco Bay to make fresh water lakes," he continued. "We need fresh water more than we need the bridges. I am in favor of a complete investigation of the Reber plan of fresh water lakes before any bridge is started."

District Court Reinstates RC Man's $7250 Damage Suit

A Redwood City man's $7250 damage suit charging a San Bruno firm with breach of contract was ordered reinstated Tuesday by the State District Court of Appeals in San Francisco.

The plaintiff is John L. Pastorino, a fisherman of 1302 Hopkins Ave. He sued Greene Brothers of San Bruno for $7250 he said he was prevented from making under a contract he had with the company as captain of the fishing vessel Green Dolphin.

A San Mateo County Superior Court ruled against Pastorino and for Greene Brothers, who brought a cross-suit against him. Greene Brothers were awarded $520 costs.

This judgment was reversed by the appellate court which in effect ordered a new trial of Pastorino's suit.

The opinion gave this recital of the dispute: Pastorino, under a year's contract starting July 1, 1945, leased the vessel from Greene

Brothers. He sailed to Lower California and returned with a load of clams to San Pedro. The company made no objection to the trip, but before Pastorino could make another voyage he had planned, the vessel was called to San Francisco for painting.

The painting job was delayed. Pastorino grew restive and finally took off with the vessel without the owners' permission. He figured the clams would be gone if he waited too long, and he was paid on shares.

The owners ordered him to return, but he didn't. At Santa Barbara, he was brought in by the coast guard, on request of the owners and Ralph Greene went there to reclaim the boat.

In appealing the dismissal of his suit, Pastorino contended he had been refused permission to produce testimony based on custom and usage governing such situations as that in which he found himself. The court of appeals, in affirming him, held the lower court had committed a reversible error.

Hillsborough Home Blaze Loss Heavy

A two-alarm fire Wednesday morning gutted the 20-room Poett home at 120 W. Santa Inez, Hillsborough, causing damage estimated up to $200,000.

Four pieces of equipment from Hillsborough and a squad and engine company from San Mateo fought the blaze from about 10 a.m. until after noon before extinguishing the flames.

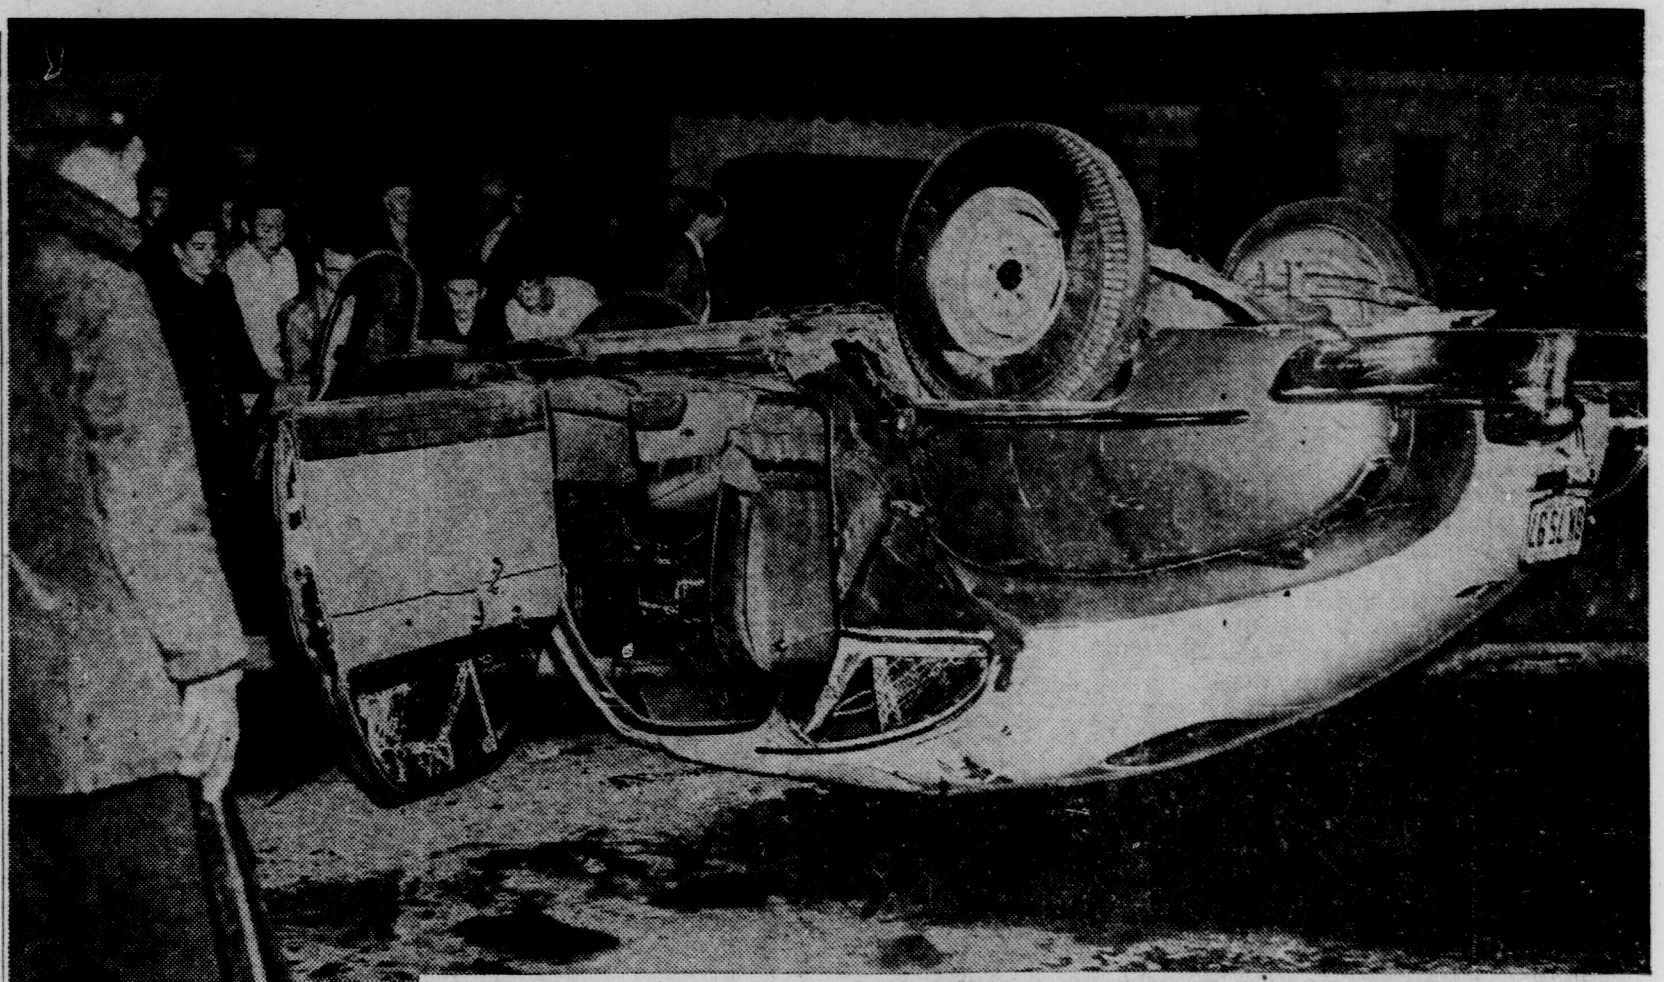

Sparks from a chimney which ignited the shingle roof of the 50-year-old frame house were tentatively listed as the cause of the fire.

Mrs. W. H. Poett, owner of the home, discovered the flames breaking out on the second floor and fled to the home of a daughter, Mrs. Richard A. McLaren, 175 W. Poplar Ave. Two maids, also in the home at the time, escaped before the flames spread.

One of the maids, Anne Flood, told firemen she had gone up to one of the four upstairs bedrooms to remove breakfast dishes and there had been a fire in the bedroom fireplace. But she said the flames had died down and firemen theorized therefore that the sparks came from the chimney outside the roof, rather than from the fireplace inside the bedroom.

Fire Chief William Palin said the damage could be anywhere from $150 to $200,000, when asked for an estimate.

One San Mateo fire captain said he thought, in view of the costly furnishings in the old house, that the damage would run very high.

CLARK ON VACATION

San Carlos Fire Chief Lyle Clark left this week for a month's vacation, the fire department announced Monday. During Clark's absence Lt. M. E. Thomas will serve as acting chief of the fire department.

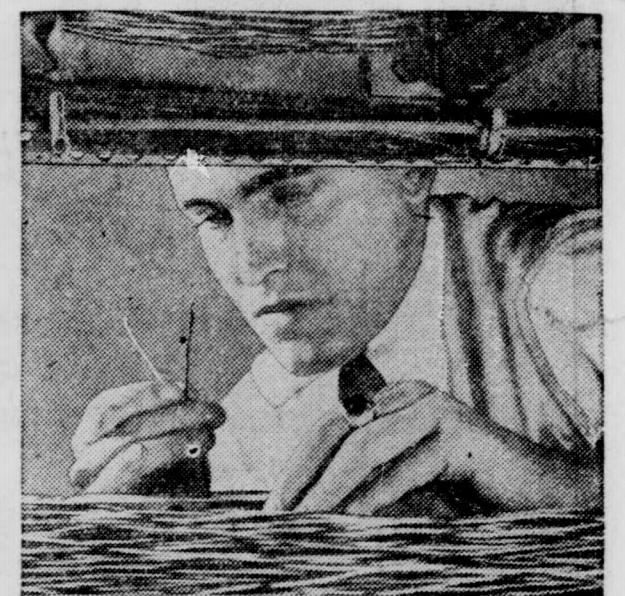

INVOLVED IN INTERSECTION COLLISION—These two cars were sent sprawling Tuesday after colliding at Hudson St. and Hopkins Ave. The drivers were both injured, as was a 14-year-old passenger. One of the automobiles overturned three times and landed on the front lawn of a nearby home.

Before dusting radiators, lay a damp cloth across the top. The board courts of asphalt tile available and ready to fit into the stead of flying out into the room. floor.

HOW YOU GET YOUR TELEPHONE ADDRESS

Your number guides a call to you from across the nation almost as quickly as you can walk next door

1. Your voice highway—a pair of tiny wires—is labeled with your telephone number at this central office distributing frame. From here, the wires lead out of the office, through cables, to your telephone. They also go the other way—on into a special section of complex equipment that has the specific job of handling your calls.

2. Picking your number is a job for trained people. From their charts they find an available pair of wires in a cable to your neighborhood. The volume of calls carried by the central office equipment serving your number is often checked to see if it has the capacity to handle added calls. This is part of our job of making telephone service reliable and efficient.

3. Someone calls your number... and, in a matter of moments, you pick up your receiver to answer. Perhaps the call is from just across the street. Perhaps it comes half-way around the earth. But your number guided it to your telephone... and no other. Seems almost like magic when you think of it... another of the little things that add up to good telephone service for you.

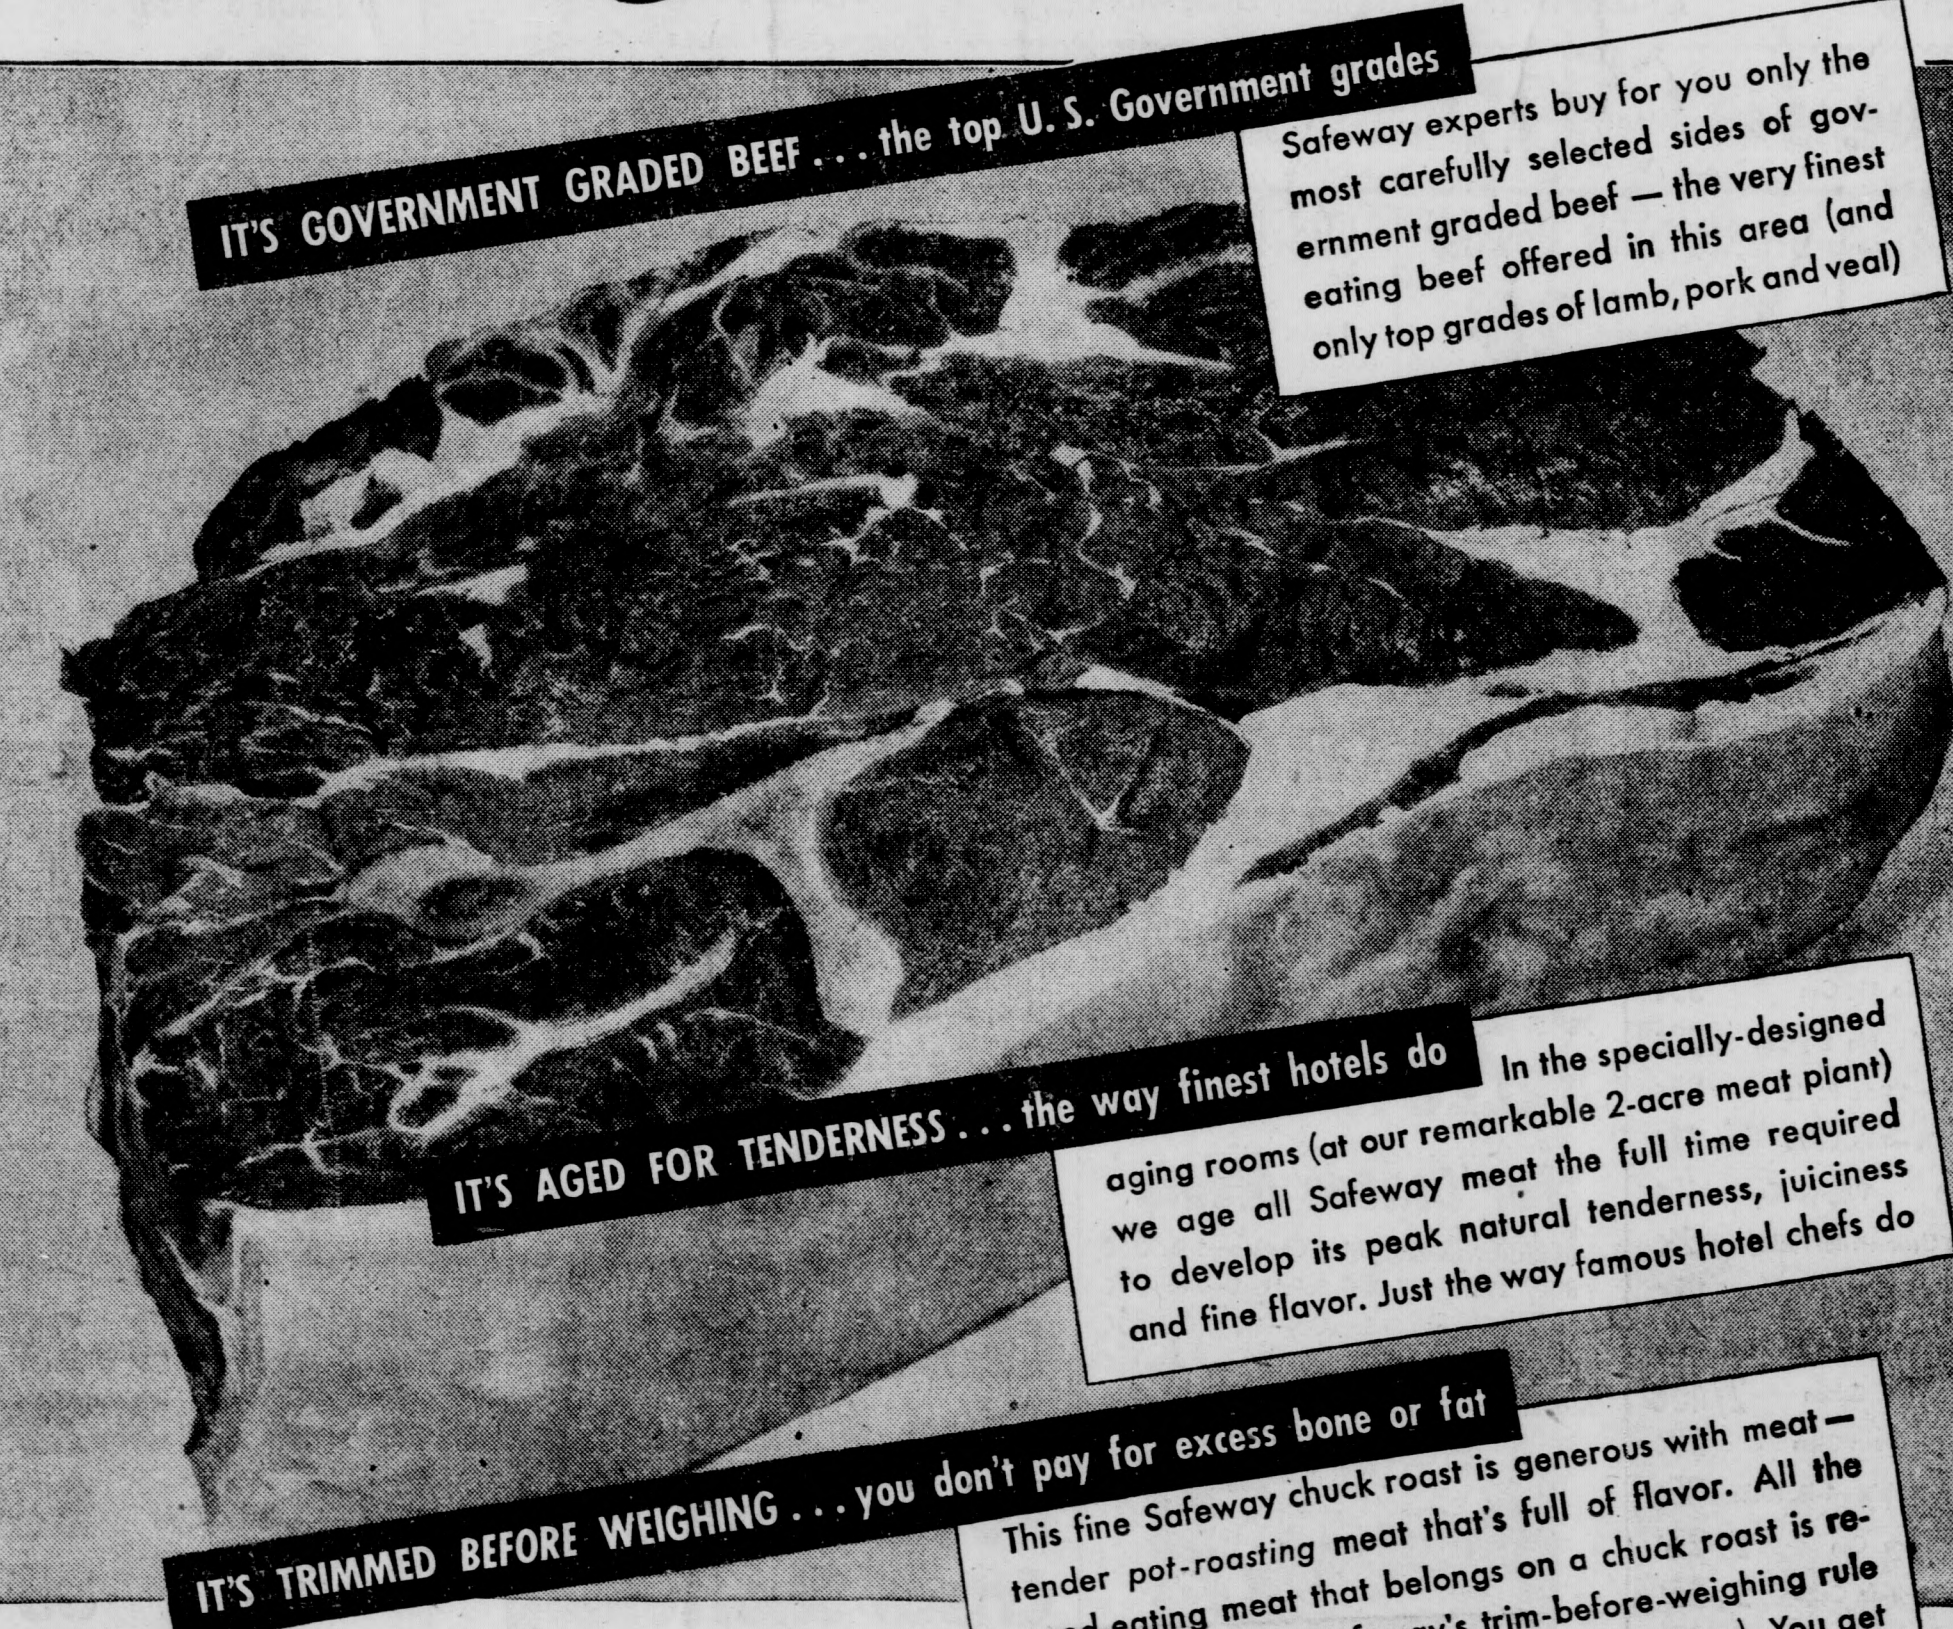

4. A lot of new numbers have been added in the past few years. For today there are twice as many telephones in use on the Coast as ten years ago. All these new telephones make yours more valuable. You can reach more people... more can reach you. Yet rates remain low. A few pennies still buy a call—a real value in these days of high prices.
